The South will be transformed to (black Israel)- El-Mahadi

Al-sahafa Khartoum, 02/03/11- The leader of Uma Party Al-sadig El-Mahdi expected that the State of the South Sudan will be transformed in the future to what he called (black Israel) if it opts to polarize the foes of the north, affirming that the stopping of this trend is dependent on the alertness of the later and the kinds of policies in it.

El-Mahdi said during a meeting with the Sudanese in Qatar that the separation would not put an end to the problem of the south and its resolution is dependent on options of the independent State in the future, either by heading to the north for friendship and brotherhood or to the south to have brotherhood with other bodies to polarize the foes of the north, by this the south will transform to “black Israel” in the Nile Valley.

He added that the choice of the south to one of the mentioned two options is dependent on the alertness and the ability of the north and on the kinds of the policies in it whether they are attractive or not. He warned that Sudan may face many challenges if the relations between the north and south to animosity, stating that will lead to proxy war. The north will support the factors of fragmenting the south and the later will take similar steps. In addition, the south will support the Darfuri armed movements which would create two failed states.

El-Mahadi identified another danger which will come from the ‘new south’ referring to the areas of south Kordofan, Nuba Mountains and southern Blue Nile, affirming that all of them will seek to cause troubles in the north. He stressed that more than two million southerners will refuse to go to the south inspite of the separation, and would not go out from the north except if the authorities did ethnic cleansing which we will not approve and consider as correct.
