WFP concerned over targeting its personnel in Darfur

(AlAyam) The WFP expressed its concerns over brutal attacks targeting its staff in Darfur. These attacks the WFP says, hinder delivery of food to millions of needy people in Darfur. The WFP Executive Director condemned these attacks as they deprive more than three million people from food assistance and who depend on NGOs. He said as a result of these attacks on the WFP trucks three contracted staff have been killed. The WFP trucks have been attacked more than 20 times during this year only, he said.

Discussions with Both Parties Positive, Zerihoun

(Sudan vision Daily– 21 Oct.) UNMIS has offered to mediate between NCP and SPLM to diffuse the current crisis that has erupted between the two partners. UNSG Deputy Representative, Taye-Brook Zerihoun, informed Sudan Vision that the rationale behind UNMIS initiative is to set the stage for high-level consultations that include UNMIS, NCP and SPLM to untangle their present impasse.

Zerihoun told Sudan Vision that he has left for Juba to probe the reason for SPLM decision to withdraw from the Central Government and the short- and long-term strategies the SPLM plans to pursue to address different scenarios that may follow as a result of its decision.

"My assessment of the discussions with both parties was positive in that they both showed seriousness of purpose and readiness to keep channels of communication open to try and resolve the problems through consultation," Zerihoun said, adding that it was a good sign that consultations are continuing although the problems have not been resolved.

Zerihoun further commented that the UN considers that the CPA has reached a critical juncture where a number of sensitive issues have to be tackled and resolved by the two partners without delay. "We have undertaken a strategic assessment of our activities to better position and resource ourselves with respect to the current and upcoming challenges of CPA implementation including redeployment of forces, Abyei, North-South boundary demarcation and the elections,” Zerihoun said.

He explained that UNMIS could help push CPA implementation forward by urging the two partners to focus on the above and other issues during the consultations.

Zerihoun concluded that, in addition to the key outstanding issues in CPA implementation mentioned above, the high-level consultations could help in addressing on the spot problems that may arise including the current impasse in the GoNU.

Sudanese ruling party rejects France conference

BBC Mon. Text of report by Sudanese newspaper Al-Ray AlJam website on 20 October

[Report from Khartoum by Dia-al-Din Bilal and Al-Nadhir Ibrahim: "Dr Ghazi: 'The French initiative is of no use'. SPLM appeals for help by UN Security Council, IGAD, to salvage peace"]
The Government has rejected an initiative by France to convene an international conference to evaluate and remedy the Naivasha disagreements that have led the Sudan People's Liberation Movement [SPLM] to freeze its partnership with the National Congress Party [NCP].

Presidential Adviser Dr Ghazi Salah-al-Din told Al-Ra'y al-Amm yesterday [19 Oct] that he had received from France's Ambassador in Khartoum Christine Bishop an invitation to the holding of an international conference to evaluate and remedy the Naivasha differences, with the participation of China, Saudi Arabia, the United States and the IGAD countries and their partners.

Dr Ghazi said of the initiative that it was not useful. He pointed out that the peace agreement has mechanisms to deal with differences and problems through the Presidential establishment, the Evaluation Commission, and the Constitutional Court. "There is no need to renegotiate on issues that have been completely settled and codified as articles in the Constitution," he said, adding that intervention would further complicate the problem.

Meanwhile, an informed source revealed to Al-Ra'y al-Amm that the NCP will make a special proposal today to the SPLM to surmount the Abyei issue, considering that the movement has made swearing in of its ministers contingent on a solution to this case. The source said that if the SPLM rejected the proposal or did not agree to it, the NCP believes it would be necessary to continue negotiations to solve the issue and that the SPLM ministers should take the oath in the interim.

Meanwhile the SPLM made separate calls to the UN Security Council and IGAD [Inter-Governmental Authority on Development] to convene emergency meetings to discuss delays in implementing the Comprehensive Peace Agreement in Sudan. SPLM Secretary-General Pagan Amum referred to the invitation issued by France to convene an international conference to consider the same issue and to seek to take to account those proven to be the cause for not implementing the agreement.

He said yesterday in addressing the conclusion of the sports tournament for Fashoda students in universities and higher educational institutes, held at the Camponi Stadium in Khartoum, that "the agreement is a responsibility in the hands of the UN Security Council, and this is why we call upon it and on IGAD to convene an emergency summit to discuss the issue and study means of helping Sudan implement the Naivasha Agreement".
